

Data Room Index

A guide to documents and transcripts in the shared client room

Client	Generation Bridge Foundation
Document reference	MOM-2026-DRI-01
Issued	Sunday 26 July 2026
Classification	Participant material
Version	3.1 July-September 2026

This index lists what is in the shared client data room. In a real engagement, clients hand you mixed-quality material and expect you to decide what to trust. We do not pre-rate reliability for you. That is your job in the Information Credibility Matrix (Week 2). Operational datasets are not in this folder; they are held by Workflow B under the A↔B evidence loop (Estate -> Demand -> Plan -> R/FM).

How to question what you read

Before you lean on any claim, ask:

1. Who produced this, for whom, and with what incentive to look good or look candid?
2. Are headline metrics defined? Would another definition change the story?
3. Does another document or interview say something different about the same topic?
4. Is this a measured fact, a management opinion, or a stakeholder preference?
5. What would you need Workflow B to check in the operational record before you treat a number as settled?

Capture your judgements in the credibility matrix. Public reports, internal memos, emails, surveys, audited accounts and interviews are not automatically equal. Disagreement between sources is normal; resolving it is part of the work.

How to cite these sources

Markers will not hunt through an entire PDF for your claim. Cite document reference plus section heading or page topic, not the code alone. Transcripts: cite code and speaker. Examples: (D-02, §1 Dong Nai); (D-01, 'Our year in numbers'); (BN-02, Tuan).

Interview transcripts

The full transcripts are in '20_Interview_Transcripts'. Fourteen conversations were recorded in January 2026 by the engagement team and lightly edited for clarity (not stripped of natural speech). Cite as CODE (Speaker), e.g. ST-01 (Hung). Treat each voice as one perspective, not organisational truth.

Operational datasets (Workflow B only)

The monitoring export and data dictionary sit in Workflow B's folder. Workflow A does not receive these files. If you need a number, a comparison, or a test of a hypothesis, file an Analysis Request. Figures that appear in shared documents are starting points for questions, not a substitute for querying the operational record.
